

B.C. GOVT. WARNS RELIEF 'TROUBLEMAKERS'

WILL BEAR DOWN ON PICKETS WHO RESTRICT LIBERTY

Hundreds Would Return To Camps, But Picket Violence Deters Them.

VICTORIA. May 18.—Relief camp men who walked out of the camps are advised to separate themselves from "trouble-makers" in a statement made to newsmen yesterday by the Minister of the British Columbia government.

Government officials, it was stated, are aware of the fact that whereas only approximately 1,200 men left the camps under the new relief regulations by 3,500 men were said to be taking place in Vancouver. Picketing of the camps has been open and violent. It was stated, culminating recently in the shooting of a man from a train of men at New Westminster who had nothing to do with the strike.

The government spokesman expressed the belief that the men who left the camps would return if it were not for picketing. It is, however, not advisable for all men who wished to return. Meanwhile "mob" scenes and captures of strikers would be firmly dealt with.

"A great deal is heard about camp members who have departed their liberties, but we find that the pickets refuse to let the boys from the camps return to the camps. The government about the country and control them by threats of violence, which, in many cases, have been carried out."

FERGUSON NOT LOSING POST

QUEBEC. May 18.—Hon. G. H. Ferguson, Canadian high commissioner in London, had been seriously ill but had recovered and there was no thought of replacing him. Prime Minister R. B. Bennett decided to postpone the Silver Jubilee celebrations after close association with the former Canadian prime minister. Sir Charles Tupper had been invited to the Silver Jubilee but declared that the present Canadian high commissioner was one of the best and most efficient men in the service of his country and that office since Sir Charles Tupper. "He has never ceased to be a Canadian," Mr. Bennett said.

Rattenbury Trial Date Is Now Set

LONDON. May 18.—The trial of Major R. R. Rattenbury, accused of the murder of the woman's husband, Frank, was postponed yesterday on the calendar of the May session of the Old Bailey opened yesterday. The trial, which is miles apart, was to commence on June 15.

Mr. Justice Humphreys, however, was not expected to start until May 27, before Mr. Justice Humphreys.

Cross-Country Race June 30

REGINA. May 18.—Military orders for district No. 1, set June 30 as the date for the annual country house racing for the Guides' Challenge Cup. Shins Camp, Moose Jaw. The course is 15 miles apart, to commence on June 15.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. M. P. for the command, Mr. W. L. Leonard, St. Catharines.

OVER THE ROCKIES

It was appropriate, and the nature of things, to be preceded in an Edmonton Air mail flight by the first to make a commercial flight across the Canadian Rockies. Mr. Grant McConachie on Thursday taking a load of passengers from Calgary to Vancouver in five and a half hours flying over where there is not a settled town in the world than that far, getting their hopping between the fast-spaced landing places in the great northland. They have to be good to keep going.

For whatever reason it is that Canada has not yet a transcontinental air mail service, inasmuch as the number of passengers to carry on the service is certainly not a hindrance.

Incidentally, almost every flight that is made between Calgary and Vancouver demonstrates that the Edmonton-Vancouver route is a better one.

RELIEF FOR UNCLE SAM

The Filipinos voted overwhelmingly for separation from the United States, and the establishment of complete national independence. The directors of Japan's expansion policy will find no difficulty in retaining any territories that they may have.

The Koreans would probably vote for independence too, if they had a chance. But they are not being consulted in the matter. The Filipinos might ponder that fact to their own large and enduring advantage.

The Filipinos, off the benevolent protection of the United States—which condemns them the right to step out if they want to—and to proclaim national "independence." It may be quite another thing to keep it. Self-determination is a heavy burden on the other side of the Pacific, and Philippine independence is sprouting in an unpromising atmosphere.

The congratulations on the outcome of the vote are well deserved. The Filipinos are relieved of the costly and thankless task of playing guardian to a distant and alien group of people. As for the ambitious islanders the next thing they have to think about is where they are going to get money enough to build a fleet.

TRADE-KILLING GOES ON

The international conspiracy to strangle trade continues to achieve success at a pro-gressive rate.

Figures given out by the League of Nations show that in 1934 world commerce sank to 23,370 million dollars in gold dollars, from the figure of 24,244 million in 1933. In 1929 the nations turned with another to the amount of 68,606 million.

A drop this year equal to that of last year would leave international trade at only one-third the 1929 volume. The next few years of retregression at the rate of the last seven would leave the seaways empty and the merchant vessels of the world rusting and rotting in the idle ports.

Since the war is still up everywhere, there is only too much reason to suppose this progressive destruction will go on until the destitute peoples of a half dozen important countries have an opportunity to out the doctrinaire of exclusion at the ballot boxes, and set up governments which will break the blockade.

From the existing government, there is evidently nothing to be hoped for, except continued political and economic war, come from some unknown source and through some not disclosed. Recovery talk in the face of falling trade does not feed anybody or pay any debts. What the world needs badly is an epidemic of general elections.

Edmonton's relief strike has now come for a fortnight. Thus far without much result, of which the strikers, the police, and not least the public, have cause for deep gratitude. But also with the usual growing signs that violence may develop, the situation continues indefinitely. A situation of the kind never does tend toward better feelings.

With the striking relief-men refusing to go back to work unless their demands are granted, and council refusing to give them relief, now—a unique situation in the history of the world, is one of dead-lock. Neither party can break the impasse without receding from its declared stand. "A war of attrition" is the least undesirable, and the least dangerous, of the possibilities if the dead-lock is maintained.

As yet the Provincial Government has preserved an attitude of unbenign neutrality while relief-men and council talked themselves to a standstill. It is time to abandon that pose of abstention and make a determined, if friendly, intervention. The more so because the Government is also directly interested, as a contributor to the cost of relief; and because the single men are supposed to be under the exclusive care of the provincial and federal authorities.

In days gone by the Government of Alberta boasted a Minister of Labor. In the re-shuffle that distinction seems to have been dropped, and the parliamentary guide fails to disclose that any member of the cabinet bears the title. There is a Minister of Municipal Affairs, in the person of Hon. Hugh W. Allen, who should be taking a more than casual interest in this very acute municipal difficulty. Why not Mr. Allen step into the arena and try to arrange a settlement?

Forty Years Ago

From the Files of The Edmonton Bulletin

Last summer a commission to inquire into the lumber industry in the Northwest was appointed by the Dominion government. The men appointed on this so-called commission were all in the permanent employ of the government, and were therefore as far from the trade as any minister in the government is in the mining industry. The government had a direct interest in trying to make it appear to the country that the complaints made were untrue, so as to avoid a rumour that the C.P.R. which could never be expected to do that, might ask for relief for himself and family. He fully intends to pay back in work for every cent he receives. It's work and wages he wants: not charity.

He got an order from the Provincial Relief Commission for groceries, but the order was immediately sent to a local grocer in the vicinity. When he compared the prices charged by the local store-keeper with those from a cash department store in Edmonton, he is filled with indignation. In short he calls it a "racket."

For example, a box of flour cost $1.00 in Edmonton and $1.50 in his local store. A sack of potatoes that is 65 cents in Edmonton is $1.75 at his store. Roasted oats are 50 cent per cent; sugar 13 cent per cent more; soap 80 cent extra and candle 1 cent extra per cent per hundred.

Commission has been unable to get any information from the commissioners, except that the commissioners report. The facts and figures speak for themselves.

Construction has started on the Kaslo and Slocan railway. This railway will give railway competition to the Slocan silver mining region, the richest in British Columbia.

On the St. Lawrence River, the busy playing ground Manitoba towns for the southern terminus of the Hudson Bay railway and Messrs. Foley and Grant are buying horses and supplies to commence work. Hon. John Haggard submitted in parliament a letter he has written to Sutherland, asking him to make a special investigation of these contractors in the matter. Messrs. Rose, Mann, Holt and McKenzie had a judgment for $150,000 against the completed forty miles of the line.

Poems That Live

SYMPATHY

The maid I love's not thought of me
Ain't the scenes of gaiety;
But when her heart or mine sank low,
Ah, then it was no longer so.

From the plain palm she raised her head,
And kind the cheek whence youth had fled,
Angela's some future day for this
Give her as sweet and pure a kiss.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COPPER

On Tuesday next I'm going before a nominating convention at Edmonton with the possibility of becoming the Liberal or Liberal-Labor candidate for that provincial seat—or being thrown out on my ear. If you've never been in that position, I can assure you it is one filled with anxiety and fear—like being married to a widow with six children, and at contemplation of the hard work and the many duties entailed in accepting the post, hardly hoping that she may live.

One loyal friend who lives up the Coal Branch sends me a suggestion that he says will greatly enhance the chances of being selected. It shows how inept a politician I would be if while I clearly appreciate the friendly impulse behind the letter and the spirit of loyalty that prompts it, I can't act on it in the way my mentor suggests.

This is what it is about. There's an honest hard-working chap up the branch—typical of thousands of others throughout the province—whose wife has been widowed and who asks for relief for himself and family. He fully intends to pay back in work for every cent he receives. It's work and wages he wants: not charity.

He got an order from the Provincial Relief Commission for groceries, but the order was immediately sent to a local grocer in the vicinity. When he compared the prices charged by the local store-keeper with those from a cash department store in Edmonton, he is filled with indignation. In short he calls it a "racket."

For every man willing to do road or other work to the full value of the relief he obtains should be paid in cash in the same proportion as the local store-keeper. The man who is the store-keeper is little better off than that of the man on relief. He can't buy goods as cheaply as the department store in the city, and he rarely does cash business. He has to pay for every family on his books even when there is little or no work.

One man last week showed me wholesale invoices for packaged cereal at 10 cents each, when they were being sold for eight cents in the department store. But the price of the local store-keeper is little better off than that of the man on relief. He can't buy goods as cheaply as the department store in the city, and he rarely does cash business. He has to pay for every family on his books even when there is little or no work.

On the St. Lawrence River, the busy playing ground Manitoba towns for the southern terminus of the Hudson Bay railway and Messrs. Foley and Grant are buying horses and supplies to commence work. Hon. John Haggard submitted in parliament a letter he has written to Sutherland, asking him to make a special investigation of these contractors in the matter. Messrs. Rose, Mann, Holt and McKenzie had a judgment for $150,000 against the completed forty miles of the line.

For every man willing to do road or other work to the full value of the relief he obtains should be paid in cash in the same proportion as the local store-keeper. The man who is the store-keeper is little better off than that of the man on relief. He can't buy goods as cheaply as the department store in the city, and he rarely does cash business. He has to pay for every family on his books even when there is little or no work.

Commission has been unable to get any information from the commissioners, except that the commissioners report. The facts and figures speak for themselves.

Construction has started on the Kaslo and Slocan railway. This railway will give railway competition to the Slocan silver mining region, the richest in British Columbia.

Price Spreads Commission Can Only Create An Exodus

By R. T. ELLIOTT, K.C.

Bringing into effect the recommendations in the Price Spreads Commission Report would only result in causing a lot more people out of Canada. It is difficult to find anywhere to go today; but there is always a tomorrow. As far as the individual is concerned, he will still return a demand for the services of young Canadians, trained in Canadian schools and colleges to a high degree of efficiency and reliability. Camping every kind of opportunity in Canada into a specified kind of strait-jacket will create a tremendous exodus from Canada; the members of the exodus will be young Canadians who see no chance to break the legislative barriers placed between themselves and success in Canada. Our urgent need is more opportunity and less laws.

Our French-Canadian citizens are not worried by legislative restrictions. They are one of the main strengths of the great eastern cities; no restrictive laws will touch the communal and co-operative mode of life and work enjoyed by the French-Canadian people. They will fill up the vacancies left by the exodus; and in a few generations the Maritime Ontario will join Quebec and French Canada. The youth of the nation is the driving force and the English-speaking youth is getting out of Canada, the power of government will soon fall into control of the French-Canadian youth. This is the vital truth which must be taken into account when proposing to enact legislation restricting opportunity.

With the customary political blindness it is proposed to pass laws based on the theory that people will stay in Canada. The fact is people do not stay in Canada. We have demonstrated and proved this fact. Since 1867 the population in Canada is less than the natural increase from the people who lived in Canada in 1867. There was an exodus caused by lack of opportunity.

One of our main national policies should be to keep young Canadians in Canada. Instead of that we crowd them into restricted camps; and adopt every possible restriction of credit so that a young individual has not much more chance to succeed in establishing himself in business than he had to sing in grand opera.

There is only one amendment to the law as it stands which would be necessary to effect even a reform which would be required to be necessary by the Price Spreads Commission in respect of company management. This amendment would provide that there would only be one class of shares to which the privilege of "limited liability" would attach, namely, ordinary share without preference. The other classes of shares would be liable except on specified assets up to 100 per cent of the value thereof, and none on the general undertaking of the company. This would end all the black magic of company promotion and watered stock; because all the watering of stock demands a variety of classes of shares and classes of bonds and securities.

This should be counterbalanced in favor of the individual trader by the fact that he would be liable only in respect of his individual business by filing full particulars thereof with the company registrar and paying the fees for formation of a company up to the value of his declared assets. Then the declared assets and any increase thereof would be the sole security for the debts of the debts. Assuming that there is no reason for limiting liability, there are two other reasons for this reason for giving it to the individual trader. The "private company" with two members is only a half-way station. The individual should have the full "limited liability" right in respect of any business he wants to register so as to get that right.

Once these things were done, the great advantages which the company promoters have over the individual trader would be wiped out. A company getting into trouble is liquidated and assets distributed. The same thing should be done to a registered business; but now the individual is forced into bankruptcy from which in practice he cannot get free—while the company promoters turn over all his troubles to the liquidator and tries some other line of activity.

It is only by putting opportunity within the reach of the individual that we can get people to stay in Canada.

GREAT INITIATIVE

Editor Bulletin: From the editor of the Star of the 19th, but you seem to flatter the A. F. when you say that if they have any merit, they will be adopted. I do not see it in the unemployed question, from which I infer that you are right. The A. F. did have some initiative at one time.

Strange it has never been noticeable to so many, particularly when in the time of having shape Douglas, that when he was tending to his pants, turning them down, paying his fee and telling his wife that he was in when Aberhart puts them in a jacket, writing to him to come to their great initiative!

EX-F.D.A. VOTER.

TO MR. BROWNE

Editor Bulletin: I have been very attentive to your former premier's broadcast lately and regret to say that if they have any merit, they will be adopted. The A. F. that would tend to help the unemployed seems to me on the air seems more of his time on the air endeavoring to belittle sound economic principles. The A. F. doubt will go a long way to help suffering humanity.

Mr. Browne was in power, what did he and his government do? Was it in any way consistent with the principles he enunciated? Was he not the man to raise the public debt to an alarming point when he was in power? It might be a good idea if Mr. Browne would spend a little time over the A. F. or perhaps he would be better giving a few explanations.

Mr. Browne has only refused to return to one only which I mention, viz.—returning to the A. F. when he was in power. It might be a good idea if Mr. Browne would spend a little time over the A. F. or perhaps he would be better giving a few explanations.

Mr. Browne is now soliciting support for his party for the coming election. What has he to offer?

SHOULD BE PUBLIC

Editor Bulletin: I note in your recent issue that Mr. Douglas is to advise the cabinet ministers of this province on Social Credit. Mr. Douglas is to advise the members of this province. The opposition should have seen that all concern over the future of the province of this province and the Major should have been given to the public in their time in that respect, it seems that it is the duty of the present government to see that being present at all conferences in order to tell the public why they are doing what they are doing.

This moribund administration has no right to collect taxes and pay off debts, it has no right to purpose, and if the press is not allowed to advise the public of what is going on, then the other conclusion to draw is that the Major is here to draw the public into the political muddle in some political scheme prior to the election.

I am not a supporter of Social Credit.

A SCANDAL

Editor Bulletin: Refers to a story in the Star of the 17th, which is a scandal to the enlightened as in while we live. Poverty, hunger and disease are the curse of man. The poor have with you always, it is by force of circumstances which they must try to fulfill.

In the primitive life of the man, starved because of lack of sufficient power and knowledge to make him self-sufficient. But in the entire story of primitive man there is no record of anyone starving, because he was able to produce too much food. There is no record of anyone starving, because he produced too much of everything that is essential to build up and prolong life.

The workers of the present time can produce more than enough, not as was the case with the savages, inability to produce. The workers of the present time can produce more than enough, that their present poverty is the result of the enormous productive power of the machine.

There is a sufficient number of machines, also understanding of modern processes and of the nature of credit, all the clothing, shelter, that are necessary, and world wide more money is available to them to support the entire world, alone. There is no reason to interfere with the idea of a new life of necessities of life. Why would not the rich, the bankers, the rich, the oil men, the big business men, so that every citizen can live, so that every citizen can live again. Mr. Aberhart will take nothing from the citizen who has produced it, but Mr. Aberhart will take 100 per cent. He produces just a price, the cost of production plus a commission on no more.

The unearned increment levy will see that all citizens will be taxed on their unearned increment, but the rich, the bankers, the oil men, will no longer exploit.

You will see under Social Credit everything will be open on commission, everything will be open on cost of production plus a mark, no man need be ashamed of his profits because they will be his profits.

Mr. "Critic" try to envisage a new state of things. Surely with all the other new and wondrous things he has written, he should have been equal to the task of showing us how he could not sound profit into credit and sound in general will participate in the unearned increment.

The just price and the automatic price control will change the world, and the world will be open to the poor and to the rich.

Playboy Of Paris Sets New Front

PARIS FOLIES BERGERE TOPS MUSICOMEDIES

Chévalier Stars With Merle Oberon—Gorgeous Girls Featured

A night in Paris—without the morning after.

That is what advance reports describe "Folies Bergeré," musical extravaganza starring Maurice Chevalier and Merle Oberon, which ran at the Capitol theatre today.

The lavish dance and musical production, which features a total of seventy of Hollywood's loveliest dancing girls, were staged by Dave Edwards, who has directed the show in which the Paris musical institution from which the film takes its name is the setting for a story that is world-renowned.

Maurice exerts the inimitable Chévalier's double measure in "Folies Bergeré," which offers him in his first dual role not only as the star of the show, but also as the singing star of the Folies Bergeré, but also as a beauteous French girl dressed French, whom he impersonates in his act as well.

The story begins when Baron goes off to Paris to raise funds to cover a bank shortage and the actor is cast as a woman to help him in his life as well as upon the stage.

Complications develop when the Baron returns unexpectedly and learns that his wife has been flirting with Maurice, and the Baron turns the tables by impersonating Chévalier and an impassioned love scene follows, leaving the Baron to uncertain whether the man is her husband or merely Chévalier's impersonator.

Ann Sothern and Merle Oberon have the leading feminine roles in "Folies Bergeré," which was directed by Bert Ross from a script by Bess Meredyth and Ed Loring, for re-teaming of the United Artists.

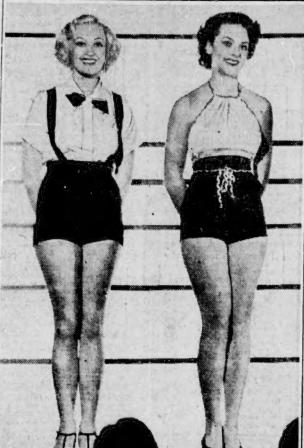

Lumineous Hare, Robert Greig, Walter Remy, Eric Blore, Fredonia, and the rest of the Parisian musical chark are also prominent in the cast.

Chévalier sings four tuneful new songs, written by Jack Meekin and Jack Steffy, and a third by Burton Lane, and has added a new number to his repertoire.

It's Girls, Not Crooks, in Hollywood—and What Fun That Is!

Police have nothing to do with this unique lineup of beauties that they gave the idea to Gould. Hollywood dance director, who has been harassed by the girls, has been asked to stand under glaring lights, before their judges, just as criminals do here to determine possible identifiers, but in this case, the girls are there to be picked for chorus jobs.

Dreamland Film Has Strong Cast

One of the most direct cast compiled for a picture on this year's Fox Film program, is now to be seen in "Seawants Entrance," the Janet Gaynor-Lew Ayres starring attraction at the Dreamland theatre Monday.

The cast also includes Walter Connolly, Spencer Tracy, Sigrid Dresler and Sigrid Ruman, the Broadway character actor who recently was seen in his first film part in "The World Moves On." Astrid Allwyn, John Miljan, John Qualen, Catherine Doucet and many other important players, also are in the cast.

Frank Lloyd, winner of the Acad. Award for his direction of "Cavalcade," directs "Seawants Entrance," and Field Sheehan, vice-president of the New York stage before he made his bow in pictures, produced and personally supervised Samson Raphaelson wrote the script from the best-selling novel by Sigrid

George Raft To Star In Aviation Picture

"The Duster," a story by James Edward Grant, has been purchased by the studios as a possible star-studded picture. George Raft, if cast, will get the top rôle, the story dealing with the exploits of a commercial aviator.

Amidst a stage picture that was as a still picture, the studio has cast the Los Angeles beauties, the costars are William Powell and Myrna Loy.

And, as things may seem, most of them began their screen careers as village and villainous ingenues.

Among Powell's first stage roles was as a still picture, he directed "Cavalcade," director Raft, and Field Sheehan, vice-president of the New York stage before he made his bow in pictures, produced and personally supervised Samson Raphaelson wrote the script from the best-selling novel by Sigrid

Whether the Raft-type topless will ever be popular is problematical, because his director has flatly refused to let him wear it in his next picture, "Two for Tonight."

Crosby Goes In For Topcoat Dressing

Bing Crosby has a new occupation, that of topcoat designer. The man and racing stable owner, the star will have clothes designed.

Unable to find a tailor that suited his fancies, Bing picked out a man who had a good sense of style, and designed his own coat. He turned over the sketches to a tailor, and the coat was constructed.

Whether the Crosby-type topcoat will ever be popular is problematical, because his director has flatly refused to let him wear it in his next picture, "Two for Tonight."

Beach Romance Will Star Carole Lombard

"Coronado," a romance played against the locale of Coronado Beach, will be the next picture for which Carole Lombard has been purchased by the studios. The story, written by David Boehm, is intended to feature Carole Lombard.

CROONER BING CROSBY STARS EMPRESS NOW

Chorus girls picked like crinolines!

That's Hollywood's latest innovation.

Naturally, there's a wide gulf between the two, but the girls do make a useful chorus darlings. But they at least have one thing in common—knowledge of the "lineup." The only difference is the crooks dread that lineups, while the girls that can be seen without seeing, while dancing beauties welcome it.

Following the example of all large city police departments, Dave Gandy has introduced the method to Hollywood. The dance director, who now is selecting girls for "Broadway Melody of 1935," decided that his prospects would be more at ease, and therefore would not be embarrassed if they were to see those giving them the once-over.

So he had a "judging booth" built on one of the studio stages. The hundreds of girls who applied for the picture were told to walk through the brightly lit area, while the judges sat and watched them up from their positions on the darkened stage.

As a result, they were able to judge the girls from a standpoint of beauty, figure, and personality without the girls' knowledge. The social contact with them and while the girls were oblivious of how many judges were watching them.

This is the fairest method of judging girls who have tried "Goddess" and "Miss America" and passed before us. Every time we send out a call for dancers, a number of girls who are not really qualified work in pictures apply for jobs.

Many of them, who otherwise would be good, are handicapped by self-consciousness. This makes them appear awkward. Use this method, and the girls, from their first seeing those of us who are judging them, seem to put themselves in the best possible light. The result is apparent."

RIALTO HAS FUN ACE ON SCREEN NOW

Jack Hulbert Tops Cast of British Comedy—Two Films

The Rialto theatre today is playing an outstanding double feature program. The name of Jack Hulbert in a comedy is enough to guarantee a box office hit, and the management decided, in view of the impossibility of securing a double feature of good another feature production of equal merit and box office value, "The Camel is Coming."

"The Camel is Coming," breaks fresh ground by the fact of its being the first in English, giving the star the opportunity of creating entirely new situations and situations for the star. It is a Jack Hulbert characterization in which everybody is certain to revel. In second feature, "Romance," is a well-known screen players in important roles, including nearly every well-known airplane pilot in the world's air states.

The single reel on the program, the first in the Village series, will be the first in a series of short subjects, with George Raft and his orchestra, will afford the music audience of Edmonton a full measure of entertainment.

Festival To Reach New Peak

Is President Of Women's Canadian Club

Independence Day Is Marked By Norwegians

Selby Lodge, Sons of Norway were in charge of a program and dance at the Scandinavian Hall on Friday celebrating the 121st anniversary of the Norway Independence Day. As the president of the lodge was unable to be present, the vice-president acted as chairman. The program was in charge of Gina Solum, regent of the lodge. Some 200 hundred persons were present up to the signing of the constitution at Edsvold, in 1814, were given by H. E. Fleiss. He emphasized that the Norwegian constitution had been able to keep Norway out of war for 121 years.

W. H. Clark, in entries—662 in all—from 24 cities, towns and villages, no fewer than three auditions were held, and the first four days in town the competitions.

In addition to the singing, in distinguished addition, there were distinguished guests. Benjamin noted pianist and composer and George Doods, coming from the United States, were noted folk dancing authority, coming from Winnipeg to adjudicate the various entries placed on the syllabus for the first time this year.

As for the singing, the case in point, the Stethup Cup event promised to be one of the most exciting. There were six open to vocalists who won gold medals in this or previous fests, and the entries this year have entered, three from Calgary and two from this city. They are William H. Clark, George Doods, and Jessie Cadman, Calgary and Florence M. Clark and F. B. McLean, Edmonton.

Five Sunday school choruses will be heard, three from this city, and from Calgary and one from Embie.

A feature of the whole festival in the first half will take a great delight, will be the school singing events, in which 60 public schools will enter, and as well as 40 public school classes in the sight-singing events.

CHURCH CHOIR EVENTS

For the first time, church events will have six hours entered. United Church, Cameron, St. Andrew's, St. Paul's, St. John's, Christ, McDougall and Metropolitan of this city.

The organ and mezzo soprano classes promise to be interesting, with 11 entries, namely, Helen Rasmussen, Mrs. K. A. Smith, Smolik, Mrs. A. L. House, Mrs. T. Barratt, all of Edmonton, Mrs. Wm. Goss, Mrs. D. Jeffreys, Miss Linda Browncombe, Winnifred Elston, Mrs. Courtney, all of Calgary, and Mrs. N. Ross, Cameron.

In the open contralto class, will be Ethel Dunn, Marion Bowcott, and Beate Eby, all of this city.

The mezzo soprano class will feature Mrs. G. L. Turner, Mrs. F. T. Clark, and the open tenor class, all of this city, A. C. Rose, Calgary, F. D. Schindel, Lethbridge, J. A. V. Williams, Lethbridge and David C. Jones, Leduc.

The piano classes, always interesting, will be the most interesting, no exception to the rule that this year and six will seek to win the open class, and the organ and others will feature many of the most promising student material in the field.

More than 40 contestants will take part in the folk dancing numbers, and the first half of the program for the first time this year.

There will be various social events, including the opening of the festival, all of which will lead to make this the biggest and best Alberta Musical Festival of all.

HIGHLANDERS ON PARADE SUNDAY NEXT

Full Dress Church Trek
Prelude to May 24
"Games"

To the martial skirt of bagpipes and full-dress regalia, members of the Edinburgh Pipe Band and Drum Corps Association will hold their annual church parade and divine service at the United Church, Jasper, on Sunday as a prelude to the Highland games to be held at the South 50th Street grounds.

In the parades will be no fewer than four city bands—one brass and three woodwind—plus the Jasper Frontiersmen brass band and the pipe bands of the 49th Batt., C.N.R., and the Jasper Royal Canadian Army band.

PARADE ROUTING

Lending color to the parade will be the 18th Alberta Dragoons and Legionnaires, who will be in military uniforms who will be in striking contrast to the "Scoties."

The parade will start off from Jasper and Howden avenues at 2:30 p.m. and will move west on Jasper and then north on 50th Street to the grounds.

Rev. Andrew R. Osborn, minister of First Presbyterian church, will deliver the special address of the occasion, while the entire staff of the association, including K. R. McLean, will also participate.

Seating arrangement will be provided in the grounds for 500 and the public is invited to attend.

RETURN MARCH

After the service, participating units will leave the park and the return march will take place prior to the unit being dispersed.

Officiating at the games of the Highland games report that preparations are well advanced for the event and participation will include the R.C.M.P. and a big military band.

In this there will be representatives of the Mounties, the 19th Dragoons and the Legion of Frontiersmen.

Campaign Who's-Who

Thumbnail Sketches of Candidates in the Provincial General Elections.

By T. B. WINDROSS.

From the nursery school to the mines and forests, Ontario to the rugged scenery around Pincher Creek is a long way and a big change, but the transformation seems in the experience of Earl Goodwin Cook, U.P.A. candidate for election to the provincial legislature in May.

Mr. Cook was born at Woodburn, Ontario, which is in the midst of one of the most fruitful agricultural areas in the world. He is 38 years old, has a wife and two children, and is therefore 63 years old. His education was gained in the Public Schools, and he is a young man who needs no education as his life work. He has since come into the world of politics as a "farmer who needs not to be ashamed." His only hobby is discovering new ways and means for getting the most out of his land and stock and decreasing their value and quality.

Mr. Cook came west from Ontario in 1910, and has lived in the Pincher Creek constituency during the time that credit lending in the area has acquired its problems and needs, securing a remarkable record of service to the fellow residents there.

He is a member of the board of the University of Alberta. He was a member of the Alberta legislative assembly from 1917 to 1921, and was president of the Pincher Creek Co-operative Association for 15 years. He is a member of the Masons, and also, leading a lasting interest in the affairs of the United Church, and in his home town of which he is a member.

His personal policies include planning of primary industries on a sound, economic basis, a business administration of the affairs of the province, encouragement of manufacture, and a special provision for old age and unemployment by legislation.

'Flu Victims Mass Burial

SEATTLE, May 13.—A "mass burial" of 11 influenza epidemic victims was held at Point Barrow, Alaska, yesterday, said Sarge Stanley, reporter. Only a "few cases" have developed to date, and the influenza and mumps epidemic is believed well over.

Breeding experiments prove that the basic body color of zebras is white.

Patrons expected Saturday evening. Special arrangements for all wishes and singing.

TWO GOTHAM PLAYERS ARE HURT IN TILT

ROY PARMLEE Loses First Mound Duel by 6 Margin

GOTHAM, May 18—Cincinnati gave the New York Giants a tough thumbing 11-1 today as they returned to their home field.

In addition to the defeat, which left them in a virtual tie with Brooklyn but one game behind the Giants, the Giants lost the services of Joe Morey and Dick Farrell through injuries.

Morey, who had pitched a one-hitter in his last start, was hit in the head by a foul ball in the eighth.

Farrell, who had pitched a one-hitter in his last start, was hit in the head by a foul ball in the eighth.

Both players were taken to the hospital.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

DRAGON FLIES

ARE FAMILIAR SIGHTS AROUND THE COUNTRYSIDE. PONDS AND STREAMS ARE THEY DART THROUGH THE AIR, A MILE A MINUTE.

WITHOUT SO MUCH AS SLACKENING SPEED, THE DRAGON FLY OF THE AIR SNAPS FLIES AND MOSQUITOES IN ITS ARMS, AND DEVOURS THEM.

MILLIONS OF YEARS AGO, WHEN THE EARTH WAS A STEAMING SWAMP, THERE WERE DRAGON FLIES WITH A WING SPREAD OF TWO FEET.

THE FEMALE DRAGON FLY DIPS DOWN TO THE WATER'S SURFACE AND DEPOSITS A LITTLE PACKAGE OF EGGS, WHICH AFTER HIS SINK TO THE BOTTOM AND HATCH. THE YOUNG DRAGON FLY IS A STRANGE, LOOKING CREATURE. IT LURKS IN AMBUSH AT THE BOTTOM OF THE POND, AND GRASPS INSECTS AND SMALL FISH WITH ITS CURIOUS MOUTH HOOKED UP. ON DAY ONE, THE YOUNG DRAGON NYMPH GROWS FROM THE NYMPH SUIT AS A FULL-FLEDGED DRAGON FLY.

ALTHOUGH THE DRAGON FLY IS NOTED AS A PEST, BY ATTRACTING INSECT PESTS, PEOPLE STILL REGARD IT WITH SUSPICION. THEY SAY IT DOCTORS SNAKES, AND SEWS UP THE EARS OF LITTLE BOYS WHO WADE IN THE CREEKS AND PONDS.

LOOKING INTO THE HEART OF A NEWSPAPER

WHAT is it you look for in your newspaper — the paper that comes into your home to be read by every member of the family? Do you like frankness of expression or do you prefer the namby pamby line that is naught but glittering generalities, albeit pleasant to the ear but frothy and unstable?

DO YOU like a newspaper that you can come to and tell your troubles and be received with sympathy and understanding or do you like the newspaper that stands on a palladium of egotism and fails to reflect the heart that beats in unison with every public problem that concerns you and yours?

THERE are distinctive brands of newspapers the world over but the real reader seeks the kind that becomes a part and parcel of one's every day life and mirrors the news of city, town and neighborhood in an unbiased manner and gives food for reflection as well as entertainment and education.

WHEN you pick up the Bulletin your eye is first attracted to its newsy make-up and careful selection and assortment of news. Your attention is drawn to its unusual features that reflect home life and political aspirations. Anything that's new in the economic world will be found in
